AUTO WORKERS MOVE TO AVERT FORD WALKOUT

CIO Official Says Union To Offer New Plan To Keep 107,000 at Work.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 4—An official of the CIO United Auto Workers said today that the union had a new proposal which it hoped would avert a strike of 107,000 Ford Motor Co. employes.

Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO vice president, did not reveal terms of the new suggestion which he said was to be offered to the company at a last-ditch negotiating session.

The strike was scheduled for midnight Tuesday.

Leonard's statement came moments after the company delegation announced that it had no new plans for averting the threatened walkout, which would be the first major strike in the auto industry in 17 months.

John S. Bugas, company vice president, told reporters as he entered the all-important session at the downtown Book Cadillac hotel:

"We have no further counter proposals on either side."

The two sides are at odds over a pension plan and contract terms to protect the union against penalty provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Ford Absent

Henry Ford II, youthful head of the big auto firm, declined to attend the last scheduled session although he cut short a vacation to return here.

"I do not think my attendance at this morning's session could add anything helpful," the youthful company president stated early today in a telegram to Richard T. Leonard, head of the CIO United Auto Workers Ford department.

He termed the proposed walkout "not an attack on the labor policy of the Ford company but a strike against the law," and added that the UAW-CIO seemed "determined to strike unless we agree with you to establish for all industry what seems to us a disastrous precedent for scuttling union responsibility provisions in the Taft-Hartley law."

No progress was reported by negotiators who conducted day and night talks during the weekend.

Walkout Approved

A walkout has been approved by the union's international executive board, the Ford division and the rank-and-file.

Ford denied the union official's contention that a disputed pension plan was a major issue in the dispute, insisting he saw no "major difference between us" on that point.

"I must remind you," he told Leonard, "that during the last ten days of negotiation, you have refused even to discuss this retirement plan."

Leonard, however, maintained that "we would still be battling over the conference table for a pension plan if the Taft-Hartley law had never been passed."

SHIP PASSENGER SEEN WITH SLAIN DOCTOR

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 4 — Police today received a telephone report that a passenger had been seen riding with Dr. George Herbst in his automobile Friday night just before he was slain from ambush at his own back door.

They appealed to the passenger, man or woman, to give them any information that might help solve the slaying of the prominent physician.

The report was given by a caller who did not identify himself, police said.

Meanwhile Detective Hugh Rudy said no clues of sufficient value to warrant an arrest had been uncovered.

The Hempsted Academy of Medicine, a Scioto county medical association, offered $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the doctor's slaying.

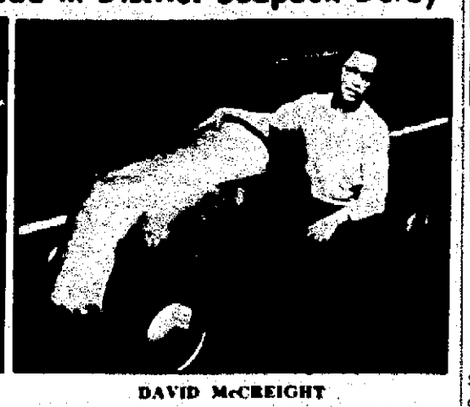
Police Chief Ray Brown expressed the belief it was a revenge killing "for it was well planned. Someone knew where to go, and the killer knew the doctor's plans."

The inability to locate a weapon or the lack of a definite motive make it a baffling case," Rudity declared. Coroner Virgil Fowler said the bullet that killed Dr. Herbst was so battered it would be difficult to identify the weapon from which it came.

The 45-year-old physician was found by his son, George Jr., 18, at the rear steps of his home where illumination from a back porch light would have provided a possibility for a hidden marksman. The body was discovered shortly after midnight, about half an hour after he left the home of a patient.

Marion Boys Finish Near Lead in District Soapbox Derby

LOWELL SCHLECHT



DAVID McCREIGHT

Marion soapbox derby entrants are shown above after making their test runs Friday in Columbus, held preceding the district race Saturday afternoon.

* * *

Although Lowell Schlecht, 15, and David McCreight, 12, winners in Marion's soapbox derby, failed to take the district championship in Columbus Saturday, they scored a near victory by coming in runners-up in their respective divisions.

The Columbus champions had to beat both Marion boys before competing in the finals for district championships.

Both Lowell and David were awarded a new bicycle each, which makes two they have received as derby prizes, the first bikes having been awarded at the Marion derby July 16.

McCreight as one of the class B contestants at Columbus clocked up a time of 22½ seconds, just one-half second slower than the time made by Boyd Neiderlander, 12, of Worthington, junior winner.

The junior boys, some 25 in all, started their races at 1:33 p. m., senior division ran their competitive heats next and all were completed at 5:15 o'clock.

Wins All but Final

Lowell in his races won until the final heat when he was nosed out by the Columbus champion, Billy Althoff, 13. Time of the final heat for Lowell was 21.8 seconds with the winner coming over the finishing line in 21½, a record for the derby Saturday. Some 50 boys competed in the class A group.

Time made by both Marion boys in Saturday's races was a little more than 10 seconds faster than was recorded in the Marion race. Grandview hill in Columbus, where the races were held is quite a bit steeper, the boys reported, and is considerably rougher.

Both Lowell and David were reported to be a little apprehensive at the starting time but they handled their cars like veterans once they were under way, and neither driver had a mishap. Some of the Columbus boys ran into difficulty on the course but only a couple minor injuries were reported.

McCreight raced first against Elwood Davis of Marysville in the class B county semi-finals, coming in winner for the heat. The race against Neiderlander was the final heat in which David trailed slightly. Lowell raced against Dickie Moore of Richwood to determine the county winner in the class A group and after tucking that heat under his belt, Lowell raced against Billy Althoff, coming in second.

The junior and senior division winners in Columbus will compete in the national meet at Akron.

City winner Saturday scored an added triumph in his winning over Neiderlander since in last year's races, the situation was reversed. Both were entered in the junior division then.

Among those from Marion who attended the Columbus meet were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schlecht of 416 West Columbia street, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McCreight of 140 Kenmore avenue, parents of the Marion boys, Dr. Dan Murphy and Jack Hanley of the Lions club who sponsored the Marion event with personnel of WMRN.

Presentations Today

Formal presentation of the trophies to Lowell Schlecht, Marion champion in the July 16 race here, was to be made at the luncheon-meeting of the Lions club at Hotel Harding today. All derby drivers who participated in the Marion race were to be guests. A detailed account of the presentation ceremonies will appear in The Star tomorrow.

UNDERGROUND PLANTS IS AIM

Army Plans Plane Factories Safe from Attack by Atomic Bombs.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—Secretary of War Kenneth C. Royall disclosed today that army engineers are planning an underground aircraft factory to see whether it is safe from atomic and other modern types of bombs.

He made this revelation in a 46-page report of his activities as under secretary of war before he succeeded Robert P. Patterson to the top post. In it he also disclosed that 71 indictments for alleged fraud in war contracts have been returned out of 400 cases reported to the justice department.

"The Army air forces have been studying problems related to manufacturing critical aircraft components in underground installations," the report said. "As a result of these studies, it is planned to obtain funds during the fiscal year 1948 and direct the chief of engineers to construct a pilot plant underground for this purpose."

Others Considered

Royall said that plans for underground defense experiments also include the building of an underground chemical processing plant and a fire control instrument plant.

He said the Army was cooperating closely with the Army-Navy munitions board on a study connected with moving industry underground. The Army is spending $150,000 on its own investigation of underground sites, he added.

Royall said investigations of 1,188,028 contracts made during World War II had resulted in the indictment of 388 persons and 31 corporations, a large number of prison sentences and fines totaling $380,412.

Cases Disposed of Fifty-six civil cases involving war department contracts have been disposed of with settlements or judgments totaling $10,507,871.49. There were 127 cases involving contractors and sub-contractors suspended for suspicion of fraud up to July 10, 1947.

Royall estimated that the renegotiation and settlement of contracts had resulted in a saving of $6,900,000,000 (B) gross and $2,100,000,000 (B) net during and since the war.

RUZZO APPOINTED JUDGE; IS SWORN IN

Named to Marion County Post by Governor.

Edward J. Ruzzo, Marion attorney, was appointed probate judge of Marion county by Governor Thomas J. Herbert this morning and took the oath in the governor's office immediately after appointment.

Judge Ruzzo, a 35-year-old war veteran and graduate of Ohio State University, succeeds the late Judge Oscar Gast who died July 16. He bore the endorsement of the Marion County Bar Association and the county Republican executive committee.

The oath was administered by J. D. Williamson, Marion attorney, before a delegation of 12 members of the Marion County Bar Association headed by Charlton Myers, the association president, and Marion Hinklin, county Republican executive committee chairman.

Bar association members present to witness the administering of the oath were W. R. Martin, former Marion municipal judge, Mayor H. L. Dowler, B. C. Moloney, Henry Mickley, Don Williamson, Ralph Carbart, Hugh Kirkwood, John K. Bertram, Kenneth Robinson and J. W. Jacoby.

Appointment of the new judge was virtually assured last week when the Republican county committee unanimously gave Mr. Ruzzo its endorsement, as did the Marion County Bar Association. Only two names had been considered by the Republican committee.

The change of judges in the probate and juvenile courts is the first here under the new state law requiring judges of these courts to be attorneys. The new law became effective during the tenure in office of the late Judge Gast.

POWER SHOVEL PROFIT LISTED FOR 6 MONTHS

Report for First Half of 1947 Estimates Net at $450,096, Big Gain Over 1946.

An estimated net profit of $450,096 for the first six months of 1947 is reported to stockholders of Marion Power Shovel Co. in a four-page report mailed today by the company.

This figure is far above the $49,015 estimated net profit listed a year ago for the first half of 1946.

Other items in the six-month report compare favorably with the situation of a year ago. For example, the working capital of the company increased $678,360 in the six months' period and amounts to $5,775,180. Shipments for the period were substantially higher than for the corresponding period of 1946. Customers' orders for new machinery are reported as approximately the same as at the beginning of the year — in excess of $25,000,000.

Excerpts from the report covering these and other points about operations in the first half of 1947 follows:

"We submit unaudited statement of earnings, balance sheet and analysis of surplus accounts of your company for the six months period ended June 30, 1947.

"Profits before federal income taxes for the period were $725,961. Estimated federal income taxes in the amount of $275,865 were deducted, leaving a net profit of $450,096 compared with a net profit for the first half of 1946 of $49,015, which profit included estimated refund for federal taxes. The net earnings for the period available for common stock after all charges, and after making provision for current dividends on the preferred stock, amount to $1.59 per share. This is with without giving consideration to past arrearages on the outstanding preferred stock.

"Shipments were substantially higher than for the like period in 1946. New machinery orders on hand at the close of the period are approximately the same as at the beginning of the period, namely, in excess of $25,000,000.

"The accumulation of increased inventories is due, partly, to increased labor and material costs and, to some extent, to difficulties in obtaining certain materials in time to completely manufacture and ship certain partially processed inventory items. All inventories are 'aged' to ascertain any possible tendency to become obsolete. The proper reduction in values of other than currently usable inventories has been effected. Substantially all inventories on hand are for the manufacture of firm sales orders or for use in supplying the customers with spare or replacement parts.

"Your board of directors authorized the payment of three separate quarterly dividends on the preferred stock of $1.75 per share, two of which were paid on January 27 and April 28, respectively (within the period covered by this report), and the third on July 28, 1947.

"The changes in the capital structure of the company authorized at the last shareholders' annual meeting are reflected in the....balance sheet."

The narrative portions of the report are signed by Elmer G. Diefenbach, chairman of the board, and Harvey T. Gracely, president of the company. The statistical portions of the report are signed by Alex Gibson, treasurer.

First Navy Victory Medal Presented

The first Marion man to receive the Navy Victory Medal this morning was John Corwin, of 274 Summit street who had the medal presented to him by a former shipmate.

Howard W. Curtis BM 1/c, who served with Corwin on the S. S. Humhaw and is now a local recruiter, presented the medal at informal ceremonies in the sheriff's office this morning.

The Humhaw was torpedoed, and after rescue the two men became separated. That was in Oct. 1943 off the coast of Africa and the men did not again speak until Curtis was assigned to recruiting in Marion last year.

Further presentation of the medals will be made at Marion Navy Club ceremonies tonight at 8. All ex-Navy personnel are requested to be on hand to receive their awards. The public is invited to the Navy club rooms.

Dutch and Natives Order Cease Fire

By The Associated Press

BATAVIA, JAVA, Aug. 4—The Indonesian republic joined the Dutch tonight in announcing a cease-fire order to troops, stopping hostilities in Indonesia and giving the United Nations its first big victory for peace.

Landing of Dutch troops on the island of Madoera off the east coast of Java was announced by a Dutch army spokesman at noon today—just 12 hours before the effective time of a cease fire order issued in compliance with a United Nations request.

Further advances in Java and Sumatra also were announced by the Dutch as they moved to consolidate their hold on the productive areas of the islands prior to a truce which the Indonesian republican government said could be carried out effectively only if the Dutch withdrew to demarcation lines established last October.

Order for Dutch troops to cease military operations effective at midnight tonight (noon Eastern Standard time) were issued last night by Dutch Acting-Governor General Hubertus J. Van Mook despite an expressed belief that the UN security council was exceeding its authorities in intervening.

Broadcasts from the republican capital of Jogjakarta last night said the Republican government agreed "with the (security council) decision that hostilities should cease and was prepared to concert all its efforts for the execution of the cessation of hostilities."

The broadcast statement added, however, that the republican government was "of the opinion that the cessation of hostilities can be carried out effectively only if the armed forces of both sides be withdrawn behind the demarcation lines fixed by both sides on Oct. 14, 1946."

NLRB Rules On Fairfield Case

Orders Company To Reinstate 2 Employes and Withdraw Association Support.

The Fairfield Engineering company has been ordered by the national labor relations board to reinstate two employes to bargain with the United Steel Workers of America and cease assisting the Fairfield Employes association, an Associated press dispatch from Washington said today.

The board decided that the company had engaged in unfair labor practices in discharging Michael Ford and Glenn Jeffries. The former was discharged for failure to join the association and the latter for union activities, the board reported.

The company was ordered to make up any loss the men may have suffered because of company discrimination.

J. B. Bray, Fairfield company president, would not comment today on whether or not the Fairfield company intends to appeal the national labor board decision to the federal court.

The decision handed down by the National Labor Relations Board is the result of an appeal made by the Fairfield company on the findings in a hearing conducted in Marion in June, 1946. At that time a NLRB examiner upheld the steelworkers charges that the company had "exerted pressure "upon employes in an election to determine whether the company union or the Steelworkers would be the bargaining agent for Fairfield employes.

The National Labor Relations Board heard the company appeal last May, the hearing lasting several days in the Marion county common pleas court room. The decision announced today resulted from that hearing.

BURNING HEAT SWEEPING U.S.

Marion and Rest of Ohio in Center of Torrid Wave.

Marion and the rest of the nation trudged back to work today to face a hot Monday after all but the east coast experienced a sweltering weekend.

A wave of heat warmed Sunday outings from the Pacific coast through the Mississippi valley and sent the local temperature to a high of 81, the record for the season thus far. Pierre, S. D., reported the highest temperature—110—as Arkansas sweated through its eighth straight day of 100 plus, which resulted in two deaths, The Associated Press reported.

Drop During Night

The temperature here dropped 24 degrees during the night and stood at 81 at noon today on its upward climb. Partly cloudy, quite warm and humid tonight and Tuesday is the weatherman's prediction.

Dead from a heart condition that Coroner Herbert P. Lyle said was aggravated by yesterday's 96-degree Cincinnati heat was Richard A. Martin, 71-year-old retired street-car operator, the press dispatch stated.

Company C Back From Camp Perry

Company C, Marion unit of the Ohio National Guard, returned at noon yesterday from 15 days' training at Camp Perry. Three officers and 23 enlisted men spent the two weeks in training. Basic training and rifle range firing got most of the attention of the men while at camp, Capt. Robert Melby, commander of the company, said.

19 PLACED IN "COOLER"

The excessive heat wave must have brought a thirst for more than water to many Marion elbow benders. Over the weekend 19 men were arrested and charged with intoxication. They appeared in municipal court this morning and were fined $10 and costs each. Three were also charged with disorderly conduct. The average number of weekend arrests for intoxication is around seven, police said.

RESUME OPERATION IN FLOUR MILLS

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 4—Production was resumed today in the largest flour milling center in the U. S. as approximately 2,500 millers returned to work, ending a three-week strike.

Settlement of the walkout, that nearly halted production, came yesterday in a surprise conference called by O. S. Rider of the U. S. conciliation service. Officials of the five struck mills and Stanley J. Bauer, business agent of local 212, AFL flour mill workers, agreed on a one-year contract retroactive to July 1, including:

1—General 18 cent hourly wage hike with five cents extra for top maintenance men.

2—Six paid holidays.

3—Inclusion of holiday time in computation of overtime pay. The union sought a 15 per cent jump over the hourly average of $1.14½.

TO TELL WHY HUGHES PLANE RECOMMENDED

Follows Publicity Man Who Gave More Details About Party Expenses.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—Elliott Roosevelt took the stand today to explain to the senate war investigating committee why he recommended that the air corps give a wartime plane contract to Howard Hughes.

The son of the late president, was sworn as a witness after John Meyer Hughes' publicity man had given additional testimony about purported entertainment for Roosevelt about the time the Roosevelt recommendation was drafted in 1943.

Roosevelt testified he was ordered home from Europe during the war to give his advice on reconnaissance planes despite his protest that his trip would be used to "smear" his father, the late President Roosevelt.

Shortly before he was called, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) had declared the committee's investigation of wartime spending on entertainment will extend to many firms. He called such spending by Hughes' company a "glaring example."

He made that comment as the senate war investigating committee dug further today into the Hughes company's records to show over $5,000 spent on entertainment for Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president.

With John Meyer, Hughes, publicity man, testifying about parties he gave for young Roosevelt, Ferguson agreed with Senator Brewster (R-Me) that a "searching examination" by the committee had failed to turn up similar records in the files of other California plane builders.

As Roosevelt waited to testify, Brewster cited a report of C. N. Bailey, general accounting office expert who made the survey of entertainment expenses.

Bailey said that his examination, limited to contracts where the records are open to the government, "disclosed nothing of the scope and lavishness" of the $169,000 entertainment expenses of Meyer over a five-year period ending Jan. 1, 1947.

Others Did It

Brewster said the committee was "not so naive" as to believe that other companies did not charge off entertainment expenses. Ferguson observed, however, that committee investigators had been unable to find any such itemized accounting as Meyer gave.

Meyer protested that all companies were allowed, under the law, to charge "general entertainment" to their costs, adding that "that's up to the income tax division of the internal revenue bureau" as whether the charges should be allowed as reductions from income.

"Senator," he said, addressing Ferguson, "don't you think that before anyone's name was brought up in the splotlight here it would have been better to discuss this matter with the internal revenue department?"

The Michigan senator replied that it would be discussed with the bureau in due course.

The committee digging into Meyer's expenses disclosed that among them were included costs of a visit to the late President and Mrs. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., about election time in 1944. Elliott Roosevelt was not there.

Names Companions

Meyer said he had been told by an Army colonel that young Roosevelt had been asked to remain in Europe until after the election.

He was accompanied to Hyde Park, Meyer related, by a "Colonel Shoop" and his wife, a "Colonel Brooks" and a "Colonel Hoover." The officers were not otherwise identified immediately.

In addition the committee heard from Meyer today that he bought a handbag for Screen Actress Faye Emerson, wife of Elliott Roosevelt, a year after the decision on Hughes' plane. This was also charged as "entertainment."

Meyer, who began his testimony last Friday, was recalled to the stand as a senate war investigating subcommittee opened its second week of hearings into $40,000,000 worth of government contracts held by Hughes.

As he testified, Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president, waited to give his story of how and why he reversed an army air forces rejection of Hughes photo reconnaissance plane, and recommended that the government contract to buy it.

Pertinent Questions

Among other things, the committee wants to ask the second son of the wartime president:

▶ On what basis he thought that Hughes' plane, still tied up by the army after nearly three years,

RFC LOAN SECRECY ATTACKED BY TOBEY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug 4 — The weeks-long controversy earlier this year over an $80 000 000 RFC-B & O loan arrangement flared anew today with a call from Senator Tobey (R-NH) for publication of a 'suppressed' congressional committee report

Tobey, chairman of a senate banking subcommittee which conducted hearings into the railroad's financing last spring contended that "unusual" and "unethical" efforts by B & O, and RFC officials helped keep the document secret

RFC Chairman John D Goodloe replied that he had asked members not to sign the report until they had studied it carefully because it covered ground already passed on by a federal court

The hearings by Tobey's group revolved around an agreement by the RFC to extend its B & O loan from 1944 to 1965 Testimony brought charges and denials that the RFC engineered a fraudulent bankruptcy of the B & O

The inquiry was recessed early in May with tentative plans for a reopening later Meanwhile a tentative report was drafted

Tobey's demand for its immediate publication followed weekend reports that the subcommittee had met in his absence shortly before congress recessed last month and decided against releasing the findings

Goodrich Makes Truck Tires with Wire Cord

By International News Service

AKRON, Aug 4—The B F Goodrich company of Akron announced today that it has started production of truck tires in which wire cord supplants the conventional cotton or nylon strengthener

According to J E Gulick, general manager of the tire division, the new tires are the outgrowth of a development program the company had under way before the war

"The new tires have fewer plies than tires of the same section size made with conventional cord fabric," Gulick said "The thinner wire-cord tire runs cooler than any conventional tire under equivalent conditions of service"

Gulick added that these advantages are expected to give enough greater total mileage to 'more than offset what now appears to be high initial cost of the tire"

ADDITIONAL RAISES IN STEEL PRICE SEEN

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4—Further price increases probably will be piled upon recent widespread hikes in rates of steel products before the end of 1947, the magazine Steel predicted today.

All steel price advances, which are expected to average about 10 per cent during the current rate-boosting period and soar higher later this year because of increased raw materials costs, also are slated to be passed along "promptly" to consumers, the magazine said.

"How long the current level of steel prices will hold is debatable," the publication reported. "In announcing new price lists several producers indicate the higher quotations did not entirely cover increased costs, and with raw materials continuing to rise, there is likelihood of further revisions in steel lists before the end of the year.

"With steel consumers facing an estimated increase of $32,000,000 monthly in their steel bills in the closing five months of this year, expectations are manufacturers of durable and capital goods will promptly pass along the higher steel cost to their customers."

In addition to hikes in prices of finished steel, the trade journal said scrap rates presented a "particularly serious threat," and were "booming to unprecedented levels with sales of steelmaking grades reported above $42 per ton and brokers bidding up to $45."

The magazine said full impact of higher steel prices on consuming industry would be impossible to assess for a few weeks, but added new rates were not "likely to put a damper" on heavy consumer demands in the near future.

Steelmaking held to its high national level of 95 per cent of capacity last week, with Cincinnati's output raising seven points to 94 per cent for the greatest boost.

Call Annapolis Men "Middies" — Then Duck

By HAL BOYLE
(Associated Press Writer)

ANNAPOLIS—Midshipman "Joe Gish" — the U. S. naval academy's equivalent of "Joe College" — has a slanguage all his own.

It's an argot for his off hours, made up of old and new slang phrases, nautical terms and ordinary words that have developed a special flavor and meaning at the academy.

Here are some samples, as taken from "Reef Points," the annual handbook of the brigade of midshipmen:

Hal Boyle

Anchor man — The lowest ranking man in the class. There, but for the grace of God, walks a civilian.

Belay that — Disregard the last order.

Bilge — To flunk out, to be returned to "civilian duty."

Brick—The blind date who was supposed to have looks, personality and money—and turned out only to have money.

Bucket—Someone mentally dull.

Bull—Course in History, English and government. Also, the filler of 600 words in a 500-word theme.

Chop chop—To move at double-time.

Collision mat—Pancakes a la Bancroft hall.

Eyes in the boat—Head and eyes to the front.

Fin out — straighten out your fingers at your side.

Flake out—To take a nap, same as the army's "hit the sack."

Flower pot—A girl who is both a "brick" and a "bucket," as described above.

Foo foo—Perfume.

Fruit—An easy assignment or quiz, or anything that insults the intelligence.

Gonk—The cranium.

Gouge—To cheat. Also, a solution to a problem "that even a prof can understand."

Gravy train—A rich girl friend.

Greasair—One who "oils the wheels of his own progress" with grease, which means pull or influence.

Hair tonic—Steak sauce.

Holy Joe—The chaplain.

Jamoke, Java, Jo—Coffee "plus boiler compound."

Lost battalion—Those who have to stay for re-exams while the others are on leave.

Misery hall—Overhaul spot for damaged athletes.

Miss Springfield — "Our most constant drag, the rifle."

Monthly insult — "That very small part of $65 on which we get our hands."

O. A. O.—The "one and only" sweetheart. Also the "off and on" girl and the "one among others."

Poopy bait—Candy.

P-rade — Something midshipmen are often in but never see: a dress parade.

Red-eye—"That great disguise, ketchup."

R. H. I. P.—"Rank hath its privileges." This term is used in all military services.

River—A final exam.

Sack—Bed or bunk. Also, "the date who should have stayed at home."

Sea gull—"Various types of bird served in the mess hall under the general classification of 'chicken.'"

Shivering Liz—A well known gelatinous dessert.

Skag—A cigaret.

Skivvies—Underclothes.

Snake—A midshipman who doesn't bring a date, but always has someone else's.

Steerage — The midshipmen's soda fountain.

Wife—"One who shares your money, razor, toothpaste, drag, et al; your roommate."

Incidentally, don't call a midshipman a "middy" in his presence. The academy slang guide says a middy is "an odious term used in uninformed circles synonymously with midshipman."

Obituary

★William C. Boyd, son of Thomas J. and Deborah Marmon Boyd, was born in Mt. Victory, Ohio, on July 20, 1890, and entered peacefully into rest at the beautiful sunset hour on Friday evening, July 25, at the age of 56 years, 11 months and 25 days, just five days before his 57th birthday.

On July 2, 1912, he was united in marriage with Miss Agnes Fraber. They became the parents of four children, their first-born dying in infancy.

They spent their early married life in Mt. Victory. Moving to LaRue in 1922, there they were engaged in the furniture and undertaking business.

In the year 1927 they established their home in Marion and conducted the Boyd Funeral Home. About six years ago, Mr. Boyd retired from active business and took up his residence at his country home on Harding Highway West.

On December 11, 1938, he became a confirmed and communicant member of the Emanuel Lutheran Church.

Some time ago his health began to fail, and the last year has been a time of continuous search for medical aid and restoration. Every effort was of no avail, but despite repeated discouragements and disappointments, he maintained his brave, bright spirit through days of suffering and rapid decline.

He was a trustee of this church, having served for the past four years, and next year would have been trustee-chairman.

Mr. Boyd leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, Mrs. Agnes Fraber Boyd; his daughter, Mrs. Carl Sheehe; his two sons, Mr. Phillip F. Boyd of Mt. Gilead, and Mr. Thomas J. Boyd at home; his sister, Mrs. Orva Butler of Mt. Victory; other relatives and a host of friends.

"There is no death, I'm sure of that; The thing that seems to be,
Is but a touch of winter that lays bare the spreading tree;
And as the roses bloom again, when all the snows have gone,
So do the souls of men arise with finer raiment on.
Oh, weary heart, be brave and strong nor wince beneath the sting;
Beyond the gates of death there lies,
The sweet, eternal spring."

Exult, O dust and ashes!
The Lord shall be thy part;
His only, His Forever,
Thou shalt be and thou art!
Jesus, in mercy bring us
Soon to that land of rest:
Who art, with God the Father,
And Spirit, ever blest!

Jerusalem the golden,
Shall I e'er see thy face?
O sweet and pleasant city,
Shall I e'er win thy grace?
I have the hope within me
To comfort and to bless;
Shall I e'er win the glory?
O, my Redeemer, yes!

"For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us." Rom. 8:18.

The child had gone to the Orians place, which has a small grocery store in the front of the residence, to get candy, Mrs. Stout said. Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rexall Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, graceful curves; if noticible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More allure, youthful appearance and active.

CITY AND DEPOT SIGN FIRE CONTRACT

2 Departments To Cooperate in Emergencies.

An agreement between the city of Marion and Marion Engineer Depot has been signed to provide additional fire protection for both parties in the event of a serious fire, E. W. Uncapher, safety-service director, announced today. The agreement was first indicated at a city council meeting when it was authorized to enter a contract with the depot for furnishing additional fire protection. The time of the present contract, not to exceed a period of three years, will extend until July 30, 1950.

Under the present terms each party is to answer fire calls from the other in emergency cases.

The contract calls for a sum of $50 to be paid for each piece of apparatus used, $10 to be paid for each mile traveled to or from city limits and $50 per hour for each hour of service for each piece of apparatus.

Since the contract has been drawn up, both parties are protected in the event of an accident occurring on the run and the workers are protected by insurance compensation if injured while fighting a fire.

OHIO TO ESTABLISH TWO MENTAL CLINICS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4 — A new effort to help Ohioans relieve mental strains of a post-war world will get under way this fall with establishment of two mental hygiene clinics under a $137,400 federal grant.

Dr. Frank F. Tallman, state mental hygiene commissioner, described the grant as a major step for the benefit of the state's mentally ill persons. One clinic probably will be established in Piqua, Dr. Tallman disclosed, and the other may be set up in Hamilton.

Both clinics will be for out-patient treatment only, he said. That is, no extended hospital care will be given, but each clinic will be staffed with a psychiatrist, two psychologists, and four social workers. Dr. Edward J. Humphreys, chief of the mental hygiene division's education bureau, will supervise the two clinics, Dr. Tallman said.

Dr. Tallman expressed hope that the project would get under way by Oct. 1 and that the clinics themselves would be operating a month later. A training program for the personnel, involving some advanced study at schools and colleges, must be completed before treatment can start, he said.

He added that $20,000 had been set aside for training, and $20,000 more for central administration, including $8,000 for professional experts who will give lectures to the workers on latest developments in mental hygiene. Some money also will be appropriated for information services, he said.

Under the national health act, Ohio will have to match the federal grant with $1 for each $2 of federal money. However, Tallman said, the government expected the first two fiscal years and no state contribution will be necessary until July 1, 1949.

It is estimated that Americans strike more than 500,000 matches a minute.

None Hurt in 3 Auto Crashes at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 4—There were three automobile mishaps in Bucyrus Friday, but no one was hurt.

Cars driven by B. F. Hayes, Bucyrus, and Sarah Lewis, Pittsburgh, collided on South Sandusky avenue as Hayes was leaving a parking spot; a car driven by Kent Buchanan was struck by a bicycle ridden by William Snavely, on East Rensselaer street, and Frederick Michael, driving an Ohio Locomotive Crane truck, reported that a car driven by Floyd M. Marks, of Galion, ran into the truck when the truck stopped. The Marks car was damaged.

Because West Point was the only engineering school in early-day United States, all the transcontinental railroad lines were laid out and constructed under supervision of West Pointers.

Taft on Foreign Policy

THERE'S room for a difference of opinion about Senator Taft's remarks on American foreign policy. Those who are overeager to make it look as if the Ohioan had abandoned the bi-partisan principle have made some selfish interpretations.

What Taft said at Columbus was that he isn't happy about the country's foreign policy. Neither is anyone else, and that goes for Harry Truman and George Marshall, who are trying to live down some of the ghastly mistakes of the Roosevelt era—mistakes such as the Morgenthau plan for wreaking revenge on Germany.

Senator Taft isn't happy about these mistakes. They have created an impossible situation. He declared at Columbus that this situation can be alleviated only by a "strong executive policy." A reasonable interpretation of this remark is that he hopes Gen. Marshall will overcome the consequences of improvisation and fumbling.

Senator Taft gave a few specifications for doing this. They were anything but startling; Gen. Marshall already had spoken of them. In the future, Taft thinks, "Loans should be confined to actual goods, machinery and equipment necessary to enable the countries which receive them to restore their own productive ability." He thinks the United States should make sure that such loans furnish incentive to the borrowers to help themselves and that they aren't too burdensome on American taxpayers. All these things have been discussed before; they are not controversial.

There is nothing in Senator Taft's remarks to justify the conclusion that he is in disagreement with the bi-partisan approach to an American foreign policy. He isn't happy about the policy, but neither is anyone else. That's why it's being revamped. It's why the state department is being reorganized. It's why Byrnes is out and Marshall is in. It's why Cohen is out and Bohlen is in. If Senator Taft has broken with the people trying to make sense out of a foreign policy that "just growed," so has everyone else in Washington.

Dutch Double Talk

WHILE the Dutch are making progress in their campaign against the Indonesians, they have damaged their world prestige by the hypocritical tone of their explanations.

Ambassador Van Kleffens' comparison of the Indonesian trouble to the American Civil war doesn't ring true. The States were voluntary associates in a union. Certain states elected to secede. There never has been anything voluntary about the Indonesians' association with the Dutch. The Dutch have always been the masters, the Indonesians the serfs.

Speaking before the UN delegates in San Francisco in 1945, Dr. Van Kleffens made what at the time seemed a sincere speech in which he stressed the moral worth of small nations in the company of the great powers. He doesn't find it practical to apply those standards in The Netherlands' dealings with the Indonesian republic—even though he is their staunch advocate when his government is the underdog.

Majority Rule, as Advertised

SPOKESMEN for labor unions—CIO unions in particular—are tub-thumping a drive to retire every congressman who voted to make unions subject to the same rules as everybody else in the United States.

This is a good sign. It shows the spokesmen are willing to take their chances at the polls, where public issues are settled. The people are going to be registered in a showdown on the issue of special privilege.

Every generation has had a similar showdown. The first special-privilege minority to be trimmed down to size in the United States was the Tories; it took a revolution to subdue them. It took another revolution to handle the slave owners. Bankers and monopolists got theirs in the anti-trust act. The New Deal's contribution to the battle against special privilege was to pin back the ears of public utilities.

Today it's labor union bosses who claim they're too tough to be handled. There was a decision on this last November when voters threw out union-coddling majorities in both houses of congress, but apparently it's going to take another demonstration to convince the bosses that the United States is bigger than any of its minorities.

Either majority rule in the United States can work, as advertised, or it isn't worth having. The majority of the American people, feeling the labor unions are indispensable but convinced that unions are getting a black eye from exploiters with more on their minds than the welfare of wage earners, have expressed themselves once. They will welcome a chance to express themselves again next year, if that's what the union bosses want.

News Behind the News

Tax Cut in January Regarded As Sure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—Tax reduction looks certain for January. Indeed, certain Democratic directors privately say Mr. Truman will consider that "the right time," and he will then offer "the right kind." This is as sure as things politic go, because next year they will have to run for reelection. Therefore the Republicans and Democrats are likely to battle each other to see who will give the taxpayers more consideration.

The Republicans should win because they will then have more pressure on their side for votes unless there is another war scare (real or quasi real). Treasury receipts should be higher from the higher dollar volume of business, and more economies in government operation will certainly be worked out from the current high of $35 billion peacetime appropriations authorized by congress for the fiscal year to next July 1.

The union reform law will be subject to revisions and corrections. Senate policy director Taft mentioned the matter only once, as I recall, but all the leaders consider the bill to be only an initial step beginning their effort to solve the situation. From experience with the new law and the current congressional study will come the final permanent formula of the future for government-union relations.

The Army-Navy unification bill which was passed was largely a coordination bill, despite its title. It will not save as much money or increase efficiency as much as the genuine unification recommended in early studies, and advocated by advanced military thinkers since the days of Billy Mitchell. Yet it is something.

Creation by this congress of the new National Science foundation was a major step intended to wrest that field from political control in this atomic era. Pure scientific research and fellowships for students of science were provided.

The portal-to-portal bill was the first major Republican legislation of the session and economists noted that since it passed in the spring, business continued to rise. Certain business authorities think business hope was first rekindled by this denial of another $6 billion of back non-working pay which the unions sought in the courts.

The appropriations of more than a billion for foreign aid will certainly be enough beyond Jan. 1 in the estimation apparently of everyone. By that time the Republicans are likely to develop an aid program of their own out of the studies by congressional committees authorized for the recess. The Republicans have also authorized recess investigations of housing and prices on which new legislation will certainly eventuate.

Defense of Rent Action

The basic political defects in their rent decontrol legislation is being traced by some experts to the same cause as their failure to economize, namely that they were new to power, and therefore not fully acquainted with the tricks of the trade which the New Deal had developed.

Yet congress resisted the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill which would have liberalized loans and also public housing for sub-standard families, and this will be the subject of the recess investigation, with a bill in prospect for next session. Also failing this time were socialized medicine, expansion of social security, and federal aid to education. Something will certainly be done as between the administration plan for a payroll tax to furnish medical aid and the Taft plan for large federal appropriations to the states for medical aid. The movement to liberalize social security next session, however, is likely to be complicated still further by the increasing number of private welfare plans. Federal aid to education will continue to be faced with religious objections. The universal military training program to draft young men for a year in the armed services is likely to fail next session also, unless the military shows a genuine need for the men, or a war scare develops a need.

Victory Sweet Is Now Complete

Congress having refused to appropriate funds for the purpose, commercial sugar rationing has ended.

That's sweet news for candy manufacturers.

The same applies to the bottling industry. During the sugar shortage, soft drinks were hard to find.

Bootleggers, too, suffered during sugar rationing. A lot of people thought government regulations were unfair to private enterprise.

Yes sir, the war brought bitter days, especially to coffee drinkers. But all that is over now that the fighting has ended and we've gone back to raising cane.

Already people have forgotten the time when formal invitations were labeled B.Y.O.S. as well as R.S.V.P.

Admittedly sugar rationing occasioned some grumbling. But on the whole, historians truthfully may say that the U. S. didn't mind going without its lumps while giving Adolf his.

Bromfield at Flood Stage

Dredging and Levees Solve Nothing, He Says.

LOUIS BROMFIELD, novelist and Ohio farmer, doesn't think much of Army engineers' flood control methods. He believes money spent on edikes, dredging and levees could be better spent "at the top of rivers" instead of at the bottom. Here are excerpts from a talk he delivered recently before the Valley Authority Conference in Washton:

"We own 1,000 acres of a cooperative farm. When we came to that farm, most of the land was eroded, tax delinquent and abandoned. We came there in a heavy rain. We lost off the farm within 12 hours 90 per cent of the water. We have just been through a flood as great as that of 1913. We can honestly say that on the same 1,000 acres we didn't lose an ounce of topsoil off that farm."

Mr. Bromfield said that although Army engineers built the Muskingum dams they don't approve of them because they "are a denial of their whole philosophy of levees and dredging."

Regarding the stripping of Ohio's forests, he said: "When the trees were there, at least 90 per cent of the rainfall, even in flood conditions, was absorbed by the land. Then you turned Ohio, roughly, except for 14 per cent of forest, into a pavement. The water ran off the pavement. That has fixed our water stage in Ohio which has dropped 40 feet in recent years . . . It is one of our greatest problems.

"There are towns in Ohio today not having enough money to bring in a factory or even enough water to bring in one more family. In a rich, well-watered state, we have counties where farmers are buying tanks of water eight month of the year and hauling them in at $35 a tank. The water which should have been feeding our wells long ago has gone down the Mississippi and into the Gulf, taking with it billions of tons of topsoil to contribute to that delta which has grown 80 miles in the last 100 years. The whole thing begins up in the cowpasture and not at the mouth of the Mississippi.

"THEY (army engineers) have had more than 75 years and the expenditure of hundreds and hundreds of millions of dollars to prove, if it had any soundness, the thesis of dredging and levees. It has solved nothing. We have had worse results this year than we have had for almost a generation. If you had watershed controls you would have a steady flow the year around instead of having to build dams and locks to take care of low water in Summer . . ."

Mr. Bromfield favors the valley authority system of conservation and flood control. Answering the claim that it is socialistic, he said "I do not think anybody is less inclined toward socialism than I am . . . A valley authority as worked out in the TVA is the greatest possible investment of the taxpayer's money. It pays back in 1,000,000 ways, for every dollar expended . . ."

Noting that the President had asked for $25,000,000 for downriver reservoirs, levees and dredging, the speaker said, "We know how effective those are. . . . . We are back where we were 75 or 80 years ago, only every year it costs a little more.

"I stand here in the absolute belief that some of us will live to see the day when every major watershed in the United States will be managed as a valley authority because fundamentally it is the only sensible, economic, investing way to solve this, which is one of our great problems. I know it can be done from our 1,000-acre farm, through the valley control at the Muskingum, down the Ohio river and finally to the mouth of the Mississippi."

Where Lightning Strikes

THE familiar advice, "don't seek shelter under a tree during a thunderstorm" is justified by records collected by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. These show about one-third of those killed by lightning are struck while standing under trees.

Statisticians also warn against the danger of being on an open field or broad plain, or in a small boat or in swimming during an electrical storm. The last named is a double hazard, for the swimmer not only is in danger of being struck directly, but also of being electrocuted by a charge carried by the water. Seeking refuge in sheds, especially in exposed areas, is likewise dangerous.

Lightning kills about 400 persons a year in the United States, or about three in every million. About 9 of every 10 deaths occur in rural areas, and they are five times as frequent among males as among females.

City dwellers are relatively safe because the steel of tall buildings acts as a lightning conductor. Occupants of automobiles also are comparatively safe if the vehicle is struck by lightning.

The highest death rates from lightning for 1940-1944 were in the Mountain States and bordering areas, and the lowest in the Pacific Coast, New England and the Middle Atlantic region. Rhode Island did not have any deaths from lightning during this five-year period.

Amazing Economic Report

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 — The "Economic Report" which President Truman sent to congress late last month is a sensational document. If the public realized what is in it, the public would be shocked. If the nature of the report was not recognized at the time, that could only be because it was not widely read. This is probable. There are 30,000 words of it, much of the text in the jargon of "economic experts," the tables of figures necessarily intricate.

The report was sent to congress in the name of President Truman. The opening words of his transmitting letter are, "I am presenting herewith . . ."; and the opening words of the report itself are in the first person. "My Economic Report." In the transmitting letter Mr. Truman says: "In preparing this report I have had the advice and assistance of the Council of Economic Advisers, members of the cabinet, and heads of independent agencies."

It is safe to assume that economic advisers had more to do with the report than Mr. Truman had.

The most startling statement in the report is in effect that the administration accepts the inflation and price rise that has taken place, that the administration will do nothing to reduce them. On the contrary the administration proposes to preserve the present level of prices and is opposed to any tendency to bring it down.

The sentences in which this position is taken are in part technical but with the meaning plain: "At present we are in the process of seeking to find a workable pattern of income and price relationships on a new price-level . . . A large part of the increase in prices since 1940 has become embedded in the cost and income structure of the economy. Hence decline to the pre-war level could be expected only as an accompaniment of a depression. That we are all determined to prevent . . . How much higher than pre-war the price level will be on one can say. . . ."

Old Slogans Go —

Does Mr. Truman, or the economic advisers, realize what they are saying to the public? All that long sloganeering about "hold the line against inflation" is over the dam. One more is added to the long series of slogans in which the public had faith and appeals to which the public responded—how to find their faith was not borne out.

Do they realize what they are saying to buyers of war savings bonds? For more than five years the administration, or an immense and highly organized scale, has appealed to the public to "buy bonds." The slogan has been heard on every radio in the country. Some 80 millions of the public bought bonds. Now these bond buyers are told that a large portion of the purchasing power of the money they put into these bonds is gone from them—and that the administration proposes to do nothing to restore their position. In the case of persons who bought the bonds when they were first issued, about the beginning of the war, the loss in purchasing power is upward of 40 per cent. Persons who have bought the bonds as recently as a year ago have suffered loss in purchasing power upward to 15 per cent.

To all these the President's Economic report now has a manner of a Japanese shrug, "so sorry."

Attempts Justification

The economic report attempts to justify its position by saying that "decline (of prices) to the pre-war level could be expected only as an accompaniment of a depression." Possibly a decline in prices, if it were abrupt and if it were all the way and all at once down to the pre-war level, might be accompanied by some degree of depression. About that neither the economic advisers nor any one else can know. There could be a gradual and orderly decline in prices which would not be a depression at all—but on the contrary would be the most wholesome possible contribution to the country's economic health.

There might be a decline in prices in spite of the administration, but it ought to have encouragement and help from the administration. Considering the acute and terrible danger which the present level of prices is, any failure of the administration to take every possible step to bring the level of prices down must entail a fearful responsibility.

It is quite possible that the whole price trend could be reversed, and prices generally be reduced, by a simple abandonment of one government practice and policy.

For practically every farm product and food, the government has a policy called "price support." In pursuit of this policy the administration is at this moment preventing reduction of prices of some crops, and holds itself ready to prevent reduction of others beyond a given point.

Whatever plausible justification there may have been for the "price support" policy 10 to 15 years ago, when prices of farm products were low in relation to prices of other goods, price support today is a dangerous economic madness—at a time when prices of the most important farm products are fantastically high, higher than they have ever been in history and at a level much higher than the price level of other goods.

What Does Russia Want?

THE following is a continuance of a recent speech "What Does Russia Want?" delivered by Dr. Elmer Twitchell before the Befuddlement club of America:

"What does Russia want? I ask you again, ladies and gentlemen. Nothing that has been suggested so far has met with anything but the veto, the hores laugh and the dark look. We must be on the wrong track. It can't be mere territory and power. These are not things that stir the imagination and make men unreasonable in the pursuit. Can Stalin want an American-made scooter?

"Is it not possible that all the fuss against us is due to the fact not one of our wayside billboards portrays a Russian in the beer ads? Could it be that Russia has been tuning in on the American radio commercials and wants to hear fewer things spelled backwards? Has the Politboro been trying some of those regulators? Can a little bitterness be due to the fact Molotov owns one of those 'pre-shaped hats' and found it like all other hats?

* * *

"Ladies and gentlemen, we must find out what Russia is really after. We must determine what her genuine desire is. It simply cannot be the trivial matters of influence and domain previously mentioned.

* * *

"Of course it is possible Stalin doesn't want Gromyko back in Russia and is afraid if he is at all conciliatory, that he may get him.

* * *

"Can the Stalin attitude be traced to frustration? Does he want the hope of all mankind today, a garter with genuine elastic in it? Has he been unable to get a pipe cleaner that is any good? Has he been secretly sending in ideas in all those box top commercial jingle contests without winning a thing, even a sheriff's badge? Does he, like all men, yearn for a set of pajamas that really fit right?

* * *

"What does Russia want? Can it be a cut in the world series? Two for 'Oklahoma'? An end to husband and wife radio programs and all things American? Have some of our friends been using our subways? Have they been trying to get hotel rooms without reservations? Have members of the Russian delegation to UN had to eat what this country is now serving as hamburger?

* * *

"What does Russia want? Ah, my friends, would that I knew? Carmen Miranda, Gene Tierney, Jinx Falkenburg? A percentage of all double headers between the Giants and Brooklyn? A ride in a sea sled? More butter?

"Frankly, I am as much at sea as anybody else. All I know is that the strange behavior of Joe Stalin must have something behind it hitherto unsuspected. I close with this one hint. Could it be the fact that, quite unfairly, he has not yet been asked to pose for those MEN OF DISTINCTION ADS? Huh?"

Bill Powell is reported the Hollywood choice to play Elwood Dowd in the movie of "Harvey." We can't imagine him as even close to the type, and the actor we think would be a scream in it would be Barry Fitzgerald. He is the only performer on stage or screen who could touch Frank Fay. Why not, by the way, Fay for the picture version? Too much as the author intended, eh?

* * *

It is our guess that Hollywood will put the rabbit into the play, visually. And that, were John Bunny alive, he would get the part.

"So far as this airplane business is concerned I have been in it thirteen years and lost $14,000,000."—Howard Hughes.

"Is that good?"

It seems to us, reading about those gay parties as an amusing interlude in the war contracts routine that there should have been a "Miss $200 of 1944."

Down With the Sash!

By TRUMAN TWILL

Passing thoughts while lying comfortably in bed in the middle of the night with a thunder storm crackling and splashes of wind-blown rain falling on the porch roof:

It's not raining. The storm will blow over. The course of storms is from the northwest to the southeast. This one already is in the southeast—a false alarm.

See, the curtains on the window are not blowing inward. That is a good sign, is it not? It is not. but perhaps something will charge it. It is not raining. That sound on the roof is jolly St. Nick and his reindeers scuffling for a foothold. They are out of season. They should go away and come back next Christmas.

Fortunately, it is not raining. If it were raining, one of two things would have to be done. Either someone else would have to shut all the windows through which it was raining or things would get wet. There would be damage and recriminations.

If it were raining and someone else did not shut the windows because the thunder and lightning hadn't wakened them, it would be necessary the next morning to pretend to be surprised because there had been a storm during the night. But there is no storm. It is reindeers.

On the other hand, if it weren't reindeers and water were blowing in the west windows, it would be excellent to shut the windows. There are five west windows, not counting those on the third floor, which are in another jurisdiction. It would be a great surprise if it already were raining in and puddles were forming. In that event St. Nick surely would turn in the alarm and there would be Christmas carols.

Hark! More little hooves paying on the roof. Also strolling troubadours throwing gravel against the house. A busy night, what with Christmas out of season and warm-blooded romance. Maybe it would be a good idea to race to the window and throw down the sash. If only a pair of slippers were handy. If only that thumb tack hadn't dropped on the floor. If only someone else would get on the ball and do his duty! Chlooooeee!

There is no need to wait longer. The curtains are beginning to blow. There is the swish of driven rain on the screens, the drip, drip, drip of the tomtoms, the beat-beat-beat of eggbeaters, the tramp, tramp, tramp of the boys who are marching . . . up and at 'em, Custer, charge if it please, if you can see the whites of their eyes you're too close, crash, bang, fireworks, cops! — a puddle of water, quick the towel, gripe the thumbtack, lower the mains'l. The dam has broken, the window's stuck, the finger is pinched . . . and the thunderstorm is rumbling miles away in the southeast, having done no damage.

Well, might as well go down to the refrigerator and get something to eat in that event. The house is afloat and the occupants will need all their strength to bail it out.

CANCER FIGHT USES ATOMS

Tools Developed in Bomb Research Turned to Medical Aid.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Aug. 4—News aids for the attack of cancer have been developed with tools born of American research to produce the atom bomb.

Commenting on the atomic energy commission's first detailed summary of peacetime applications of the atomic energy program, a commission scientist said "great achievements" already have been made in medicine, biology and industry. But, he added, these are only "infant steps" towards future developments in those fields and in agriculture.

The weekend report was issued on the first anniversary of the release of "radioisotopes" for private research work. These materials — produced here at Oak Ridge in the same type of uranium chain-reacting oven used in the A-bomb development — are radioactive, or ray-emitting forms of common and rare elements.

They can be used as "atomic spies" to help study the action of their stable counterparts in various processes important to man; and a few can be used as "atomic artillery," supplying direct radiation for the treatment of certain diseases.

The cancer work described in the report illustrates both those functions.

Researchers at St. Louis' Barnard Free Skin and Cancer Hospital — one of 170 institutions which have received shipments of isotopes during the past year —have succeeded in "tagging" an artificial cancer-producing agent with one of the radioisotopes—Carbon 14.

That is, they have incorporated the ray-emitting element into the cancer-producing material — an organic substance called methylcholanthrene — in such a way that it may be possible to study just how the tagged agent produces cancer experimentally. Radioactive materials "broadcast" signals which enable them to be traced by delicate instruments even when they are hidden from sight.

Incorporated Into Drugs

Work at New York's Memorial hospital illustrates use of a radioactive material designed to furnish radiation for the treatment of disease.

Methods have been devised there for chemically incorporating radioisotopes in certain drugs which are utilized by the body in specific ways.

The idea behind the Memorial hospital research is that such drugs as sex harmones and "nucleic acids" furnish the means of transporting radioactive materials to a specific area of the body where the rays can be directed at cancerous tissue in a "localized" area. One of the problems in treating cancer by radiation of any kind is to confine it to the diseased area and not affect normal tissue.

The report offered no details as to whether the procedure had been used in treatment.

ETOWAH, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. King at 421 Mt. Vernon avenue, was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Carolyn, and Henry Bloss Vail, son of Mrs. Roger Sherman Vail of 428 North Sheridan road, Highland Park Ill., and the late Mr. Vail, Saturday afternoon.

The couple exchanged their vows in the sunken garden where six years earlier, on the same day and date, and at the same hour, the bride's sister, Dorothy Rae, became Mrs. David J. Isaly.

The improvised altar was shaded by tall trees. Forming a background for the wrought iron prie-dieu upon which were two white satin pillows, were tall standards of natural green oak leaves, and at either side were cybotium ferns. Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read the ceremony at 4.30 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Marjorie Sutter's string ensemble of Bowling Green played the wedding music. The program included 'Clair de Lune," by Debussy, "Because," D'Hardelot, "Liebestraum," Liszt, "I Love You Truly," Bond, "Serenade," Shubert, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert, "Berceuse de Jocelyn," "Cavatina" and 'Sweetest Story Ever Told," Stults

As the ensemble played the wedding march, Miss King, escorted by her father, entered the garden. Her gown was of sheer white imported Chantilly lace with fitted bodice and full hooped skirt under a flared peplum. The lace was appliqued in a deep wide V on a yoke of sheer illusion which came to a high round neckline and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. A Dutch type tiara of Chantilly lace held her triple-tiered veil of bridal illusion. The traditional orange blossoms caught at either side of her tiara are an heirloom in the bride's family They were the gift of Mrs. Warren G. Harding to Mrs. J. Frederick Dombaugh for her wedding and later were worn by the bride's mother, a cousin of Mrs. Dombaugh, and her sister, Mrs Isaly. In her bridal bouquet of white orchids, white delphinium and lilies of the valley was a miniature Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity key and her handkerchief of real lace was carried by her mother and sister at their weddings.

Preceding the bride down the processional path were her attendants. Mrs James Ashworth of Minneapolis, Minn., was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs James C. Woods Jr., Mrs. David Pollak and Miss Ann Mapes of Marion, and Miss Dorothy Evans of Chicago, roommate of the bride at Duke university, and her nieces, little Misses Carolyn and Janice Isaly, who were the flower girls.

The attendants were gowned alike in white. The model was of sheer chiffon with hooped skirt and fitted basque bodice coming to a point below the waistline in front A ruffle of the same material edged the sweetheart neckline and the three-quarter length sleeves and a cascade of ruffles extended from the waistline in the back to the hem of the full skirt. Their white picture hats of horsehair braid had open crowns and were trimmed with flat bows of white net in the back Mrs. Ashworth carried an arm bouquet of blue delphinium and matching bachelor buttons, Mrs Woods' and Miss Mapes' arm bouquets held orchid gladioli and delphinium and Mrs Pollak and Miss Evans carried burgundy gladioli and delphinium. All the bouquets had clusters of yellow flowers. The fraternity key in the bride's bouquet also had been carried by Mrs. Ashworth and Mrs. Woods at their weddings. The flower girls wore twin white organdy dresses with full skirts and basque waists with exquisite trim of fine lace on the collar and sleeves They carried baskets of flowers matching the colors in the attendants' bouquets and wore the bride's gifts of add-a-pearl necklaces.

Roger Sherman Vail of Glenview, Ill., was best man for his brother, and the ushers were F. Connar Creigh of Deerfield, Kan., Malcolm D. Vail Jr. of Glencoe, Ill., cousin of the bridegroom, Frederick Jaicks of Hinsdale, Ill. and David Pollak.

The recessional following the ceremony took the bridal couple to the terrace where they received with their parents. Mrs. King wore a gray chiffon dress with matching gray accessories and a single fuchsia orchid. The bridegroom's mother was costumed in an aqua crepe dress with pink accessories and wore a single white orchid.

Throughout the rooms in both the King home and home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover Brown, uncle and aunt of the bride, were bouquets of summer flowers. In the diningrooms the tables were identical with lace cloths and all white flowers and tapers. A table on the screened porch held the wedding cake encircled with gardenias and garlands of delicate greenery. The ensemble played during the reception.

Assisting were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. John P Courtright, Mrs. Carl Leffler, Mrs. J. A Dodd, Mrs. David W. Evans, Mrs. H. K. Mouser, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strellitz, Mrs. Carl E. Danner, Mrs. Howard R. Mapes, Mrs. James C. Woods, Mrs. Ray Gatewood, Mrs. Clifford M. Howser, Mrs. R T. Lewis, Mrs Frank R. Mann, Mrs. Wilbur H. Symes, Mrs T. E. Sonnanstine, Mrs. Delmar Hamilton, Mrs. Paul Pocock, Mrs. Frank S McNeal, Mrs. Wilson B. Tway, Mrs. Philip E. Guthery, Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Stewart Norris, Mrs. Lawrence Jones, Mrs. Marr McNeal, Mrs. LeRoy McGinnis, Mrs. Frank M. Knapp, Mrs. S. G. Rosenberg, Miss Mabel Wheatley, Miss Ann Schaffner, Miss Sally Dee and Miss Patricia Lawler. Warren Brown, the bride's cousin was at the door.

Mr Vail and his bride will go to Lake Placid in the Adirondacks on their wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a gray shantung suit and wore a gray tricorn hat trimmed with a matching silk scarf. Her bag and shoes were in a burgundy shade and she wore the bridegroom's gift of pearl earrings. Upon their return they will make their home in Chicago.

The bride was graduated from Harding High school in 1941, Duke university in 1945 and the Katharine Gibbs School in Chicago in June of this year. Mr. Vail attended school at Asheville, N. C., was graduated from Cornell university in 1940, and later served four years as a line officer in the U. S. Navy. In business in Chicago, he is a special agent with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. His fraternity is Chi Psi.

Guests from out of the city included the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Vail, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm D. Vail, Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Sturgis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Vail II, of Highland Park, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Avery C. Garberson of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Garberson of Huron; Mr. and Mrs. James A Williams and Miss Mary C. LAW VIOLATION AIM OF UNIONS

The law pronibits union "expenditures" for political purposes. There was disagreement in congress when the law was passed whether this meant that unions could not prevent political material in publications distributed to their members.

President Philip Murray of the congress of industrial organizations was one of the first to seek a test of the issue. He invited the justice department to prosecute him for urging in the CIO news that Edward Garmatz, Baltimore, Md., Democrat be elected to congress.

President Walter P. Reuther of the powerful CIO United Automobile Workers wrote a similar article in the United Automobile Worker. The AFL teamsters union challenged a test of the law by printing in the International Teamsters, edited by Union President Daniel J. Tobin, the names of congressmen who voted for the measure.

"If Senator Taft wants to do something about it let him get started," the editorial said

Trainmen Join List

Other unions which have taken similar steps include the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, the CIO United Farm Equipment Workers and the CIO United Packing House Workers.

Several strikes already have resulted from controversial points in the new law.

One of the biggest disputes involved 108,000 workers of the Ford Motor Co. which refused to waive its rights under the law to sue the CIO United Automobile Workers for contract violations The union said the main issue, however, was Ford's failure to "make good" on a promised pension plan.

2 Walkaways Returned To London Prison Farm

By The Associated Press

LONDON, O., Aug. 4—Two walkaways, one of whom escaped nearly 11 years ago and spent much of the intervening time in the Michigan State prison, have been returned to the London prison farm, Supt. W. F. Amrine announced today.

Assistant Supt Ralph W. Alvis returned Walter Davise, alias George Sims, 47, from the Michigan prison at Jackson, where he had finished a two to ten-year term on a charge of indecent liberties. He had been sentenced to Ohio penitentiary Aug. 14, 1926, from Cleveland on a rape conviction, was transferred to London in May, 1932, and walked away from an honor dormitory Nov 26, 1936.

Amrine said Davise would be given an additional two years for his escape and would not be eligible for parole consideration for four years.

Louis Frey, 35, sentenced from Butler county on a manslaughter charge, was returned by his family less than two days after walking away from the honor dormitory.

REV. KNOOP SPEAKS IN MARION SERVICE

Prospect Minister on Union Meeting Program.

"Release to Happiness" was the subject of Rev. Ralph K. Knoop of Prospect when he preached Sunday night in the union service for Marion churches held in Prospect Street Methodist church. The service opened with chimes and organ arrangement of "The Rosary," and prelude, "Consider and Hear Me," was played by Mrs. Robert Rice, organist, followed by hymn, prayer and Scripture Offertory was "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," and Harold Bradt sang "The Fool Hath Said, 'There Is No God'." Rev. Henry Maag, host pastor presided

Rev. Knoop's text was "Give, and it shall be given unto you, good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom For with the measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to your again" Luke 6:38.

He said: Genuine Christians should be the happiest people, but there are too many professing Christians who are anxious about the present and fearful of the future. Too many churchmen are living apparently according to a philosophy of scarcity, when God is always ready to shower abundant gifts upon us if we will only trust him and do his will. It is unfair to God for us to be niggardly in our outlook on life when He has always provided so generously for our every need. We need to know more about God and his world as a preparation for the lesson in which we learn the rules for happy and successful living.

"Luke said, . . . remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive'." We can learn the truth of this principle by trying it out. Much of the unhappiness among professing Christians, comes from the fact that they have not heeded this axiom. For happiness is sort of a by-product or reward of giving. Many seem not to have grasped the reason why giving is such an integral part of church life. So the church has a challenge here in helping them to see that since they have the capacity for generosity, they must use their latent powers or else they will lose them and at the same time miss the joy and the reward that comes to those who emulate Christ who gave Himself without stint and came by the way of the cross into the state of blessedness in which He could rejoice as one experiencing the deepest satisfaction."

BERLINERS SEE BIG JOB AHEAD

Estimate 50 Years Will Be Needed To Clear Away War Rubble.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN, Aug. 4—Berliners, disconsolately surveying their Mountains of rubble bleaching under a mid-summer sun more than two years after the end of hostilities, now estimate that it will take them 50 years to clear the war's debris from their city.

Last January technical experts said it would take 25 years unless they got power tools to replace the bucket brigades, chiefly composed of women, who have been picking at the ruins since war's end

Now the newspaper, Telegraf, has consulted "technical circles" who think it's a 50-year job. These technicians estimate that Berlin has to cart off 70,000,000 cubic yards of rubble produced primarily by the terrific Allied bombings of Hitler's former capital and secondarily by the Russo-German battle for the city.

Piled in Streets

These experts report that between June 1945 and mid-July 1947 only 2,284,000 cubic yards of rubble has been moved and actually only 923,000 cubic yards has been permanently disposed of. The remainder has just been piled up to get it out of the way of street traffic, especially in the center of the city

And this relatively minute accomplishment, the Telegraf continued, has already cost the city 100-million marks ($10,000,000 by the low military rate of exchange).

There are several reasons for the upward revision of Berlin's clearance estimate. In the first place, the number of rubble diggers has progressively declined At one time there were 18,000 This declined to about 10,000 in January of 1947 and in mid-year the total had dropped to 6,318, including 4,247 women

These women have been clawing at the heaps of fallen bricks and mortar for 15 months, packing the debris in buckets and sending it off on cars running over 40 miles of narrow gauge railroad, either to dumping places or to experimental brick-out-of-rubble factories.

Another reason for the pessimism about clearing their city is that many Berliners fear that the Americans may leave and retire to western Germany. The technically-minded Americans had been their main hope of obtaining power shovels and other tools needed.

Engineers in charge of the rubble crews have found that women are their best workers, far exceeding the men and especially the male Nazis assigned to this manual work.

"The men, especially the Nazis who once were officials just stand around and spout about technical ideas," the engineers say, "while the women quietly concentrate upon picking up bricks and other debris."

OHIO MAN DIES IN SHOOTING QUIZ

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4—Police ordered an autopsy performed today on the body of Willis R. Coughlin, 31, of Alliance, O., in an effort to discover how he mysteriously collapsed and died after detectives questioned him at the C[illegible]al Y.M.C.A.

At the same time, the man who lived across the hall from Coughlin—Thomas J. Callahan, 29, of Ashtabula—lay in the prison ward of city hospital with a bullet wound in his groin. Coughlin had a possible fractured skull, police reported, but they were not satisfied that was the cause of death.

Investigators temporarily were at a loss to explain the incidents but were informed that the two men had gone to their rooms on the sixth floor about 2:15 a. m. yesterday.

Then followed, Y.M.C.A. officials said, a series of loud "disturbances" on the sixth that prompted Frank Laird, elevator operator, to warn them to "quiet down." But the noise continued, Laird said, and at about 7:15 a. m. he heard a noise like the "slamming of a door."

At that, Laird said he went to the sixth, where he saw Callahan staggering toward him. Callahan cried out, "Disturbance? Man, I have been shot!" Laird declared.

Questioning of Callahan last night, Detectives John Hughes, Mike Sebek and Michael Sirkot asserted, provided no further clues to the mystery.

7-year-old Carl Carnes, who had been swimming in the Ohio river.

At a delayed Army Air Forces day air show at Dayton's Wright field 462 persons received treatment for heat prostration after braving 90-degree plus temperatures to watch the exhibition. Eight ambulances ran a shuttle service to a feild aid station.

Persons sought beaches and resorts to escape the breathless heat of cities. Buckeye lake, mid-Ohio's ranking resort, was jammed with 50,000 picknickers.

Nationwide Heat Indicated

Although the eastern seaboard for the most part escaped the weekend's heat, temperatures were expected to climb today and forecasts were for continued high mercury readings over almost the entire nation for the next day or two.

Portland, Me., however, hit a record low yesterday for the date as the mercury read 48, three degrees below the previous low set in 1927.

Across the country the temperature hit 90 in Los Angeles for the ninth straight day of 90 or above, which the weather bureau said was the longest sustained hot spell since 1939.

To the north lightning killed a fisherman and knocked out his companion at Spokane, Wash., as temperatures soared to 98 despite scattered storms. Cooler weather was forecast.

3 Fined at Resort On Liquor Charges

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4 — Acting State Liquor Enforcement Chief Lieut. Floyd C. Moon reported today that agents from the Dayton enforcement district raided the Paddock club at Russells Point and arrested the operator and two bartenders for bootlegging yesterday.

State liquor department agents who participated in the raid confiscated beer and whisky.

The Paddock club is also familiarly known as the Boots and Saddles club.

Rail Car Shortage Hits Kenton Grain Elevators

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 4—The box car shortage was felt in Kenton Saturday with grain elevators swamped with wheat and few cars in which to ship it.

Long lines of trucks have been unloading their grain while elevator operators here await relief with the appearance of the cars. What trucks the elevators can find are being loaded but the shortage of box cars is putting them on the spot, it was reported.

The Breidenbach elevator here Saturday morning reported about 30,000 bushels on the floor, in cupolas and vats and that only one car was available for loading. The elevator would load at least two cars per day if they could be had.

The Kenton Farmers Grain and Supply reports it is over its capacity and has had to turn down grain since noon Friday.

"We could use four cars a day right now if we could get them," said Mr. Cole, the company manager. "We believe we will get some relief and are hoping to receive wheat again by the first of the week."

The Forsker elevator reported Saturday morning that it has been refusing grain since noon Friday and that it has 15,000 bushels now that it cannot move.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a mild ailment, especially when not giving any pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties. Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Cubs Move To Five Games Behind by Winning Three Over Weekend

Marion Takes One from Richmond, Two from Muncie; Dodgers Drop Two.

By DON C. BURTON

The Marion Cubs cut the Zanesville lead in the Ohio State league pennant race to five games with a three-game sweep over the week-end while the Dodgers were losing two of three.

The Cubs won their fifth straight game with a double win over the Muncie Packers yesterday at Lincoln park 11 to 10 and 10 to 8 after taking the finale from Richmond Saturday night 9 to 5.

A crowd of 1,480 saw lefty Jim Sabens win his seventh game against three losses in the Saturday night contest.

A triple by Roy Hollingshead with two out and two on with Muncie one run ahead gave the Cubs the game yesterday afternoon after it had been won and lost twice before.

Manager Burbrink was ejected from the afternoon game for remarks from the bench that were unsuitable to Umpire Staley after Staley had called a strike on a Marion player with one out in the ninth. No sooner had the Marion manager got to the clubhouse than the Cubs won the game.

With Muncie leading 10 to 9, Bob Shuford walked and Bobzean singled. With Burbrink out of the game the boys figured to move them up with a sacrifice, but Jim Forbes failed and struck-out. Then Bill Rosin was called from the coaching lines to bat for Frank Smith, but flied to left and the situation looked bad to Marion fans. Hollingshead hit the first pitch to the wall in right center and both Shuford and Bobzean scored and little Roy pulled up at third.

Smith Gets Credit

Frank Smith got credit for this game after he relieved Pivorunas in the eighth with the bases filled. This gave Smith a record of three wins and the same number of losses, all in relief roles

Winning the game gave the crowd too much excitement and trouble brewed as the contest ended. Some over zealous fan took a swing at one of the umpires and the police intervened. Manager Nelson Burbrink stood by the umpires' dressing room door to give protection to the umps who had ejected him. The afternoon excitement brought out a crowd of 2,159 for the night contest.

John Edington got credit for the win in the Sunday finale, but was relieved in the ninth with one out, by John Graney. Graney finally got the side out after two walks and an error let in three more runs. It was Edington's eighth win.

Extra Base Hits

Extra base hits featured the windup last night. Bob Shuford lined a pitch over the right field wall with Rasmussen, who had tripled, on base. Other extra base blows were triples by Dwight Maxhimer and Jim Forbes. For the Packers Tom Montag homered over right with one on and Len Lamont twice hit doubles with runners on. On both occasions Lamont was thrown out trying for a triple.

The Cubs won the Saturday night game with a big seven-run seventh inning. Hits by Rasmussen, Maxhimer, Bobzean, Sabens and Smith plus base on balls to Shuford, Forbes, Rasmussen and Maxhimer accounted for the big inning.

The Cubs and the Packers tangle again tonight with Ed Witowski slated to take the hill for Marion and Joe Nuxhall scheduled to work on the mound for the Packers.

Zanesville Splits Double Bill With Springfield Giants

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's Dodgers broke even in a doubleheader with the Springfield Giants yesterday.

The Dodgers won 5 to 4 in the afternoon game, checking a belated Giant threat in the ninth. They dropped the night game, 5 to 2.

Second place Marion Cubs gained a full game on the leaders.

Dayton had to settle for an even break with the Newark Browns after winning the daylight fracas, 10 to 5. Gene Maine's ninth inning single with the bases loaded gave Newark the nightcap, 8 to 7.

Richmond's Roses and the Lima Terriers also divided. The Roses annexed the opener, 11 to 10, then lost to Dick Strube horse-collar pitching, 7 to 0, in the seven-inning afterpiece.

BLACKWELL FAILS TO FINISH 14TH COMPLETE GAME

Cincinnati Sensation Now Has Run Out of Strings.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 4—Ewell Blackell has run out of "strings."

Cincinnat's tall, skinny right-hander, whose recent series of 16 straight wins included a no-hitter, failed in an attempt to pitch his fourteenth complete game in a row yesterday as the Boston Braves downed the Reds, 4-2, in the first game of a twin bill.

The second game went to Cincinnati, 6-1.

Heat generated by ol' sol—it was 100 degrees in the press box—proved Blackell's undoing—but he stood it for six full innings before he was forced to retire in favor of young Kent Peterson. It was the fourth loss and second setback in a row for the long boy, who has won 18.

Other victims of the high temperature were Umpire Dusty Boggess, who excused himself from the eighth and ninth innings of the first game to cool off, and between 70 and 80 fans in the 26,184 crowd who required first aid treatment.

The Braves, who got to Ewell for seven hits, bunched three, including doubles by Tommy Holmes and Earl Torgeson, to score three times in the third inning. Torgeson accounted for the other run in the fifth by belting his fifteenth homer.

The nightcap winner for the Reds was Lefty Ken Raffensberger, who scattered seven hits for the fourth triumph, but was deprived of a shutout in the sixth as Bob Elliott poled one of his offerings out of the park.

Hatton's ninth homer into the right field bleachers touched off the fireworks in the fourth.

Indians Get Rest After Trip East

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4—The Indians took a breather today from a concentrated dose of baseball in the east that ended in somewhat less than sensational fashion.

The eastern record, six wins and seven losses, left the Tribe firmly slotted in fifth place, 19½ games behind the league-leading Yankees.

The Indians lost to the Yankees —5 to 4 and their eighteenth beating by one run—another which conceivably could have been won except for an error by Les Leming.

Bobby Brown, pinch hitting for Allie Reynolds in the Yankee half of the ninth, started the inning off by punching a single past Boudreau. George Stirnweiss then bounced to Fleming at first base, who threw the ball over Boudreau's head, and both runners were safe.

After Tommy Henrich walked, "Yogi" Berra shot a long fly to Bob Lemon, Brown scoring after the catch with the winning run.

Will Dodgers Repeat Dismal Showings of 1942 and 1946?

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Will history repeat? Are the Brooklyn Dodgers going to duplicate their famous flopperoos of 1942 and 1946?

These questions are on the tops of many baseball fans' tongues today following yesterday's 8-0 defeat, the third successive setback handed to the Brooks by the once-tame Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers still own a seven-game bulge over the stubborn St. Louis Cardinals but last year the Brooks blew a seven and a half game mid-season lead and lost the pennant to the Cards.

It was only four days ago that the air was buzzing with talk of a subway world series between the Dodgers and New York Yankees, who are making a shambles of the American league flag race.

The Cards, far from through after absorbing three setbacks from the Dodgers, bounced back with three wins over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Cards outslugged the Phillies 10-8 at St. Louis Sunday. A wild throw by Walker in the last half of the eighth enabled the Cards to score two unearned runs and win the game.

The home run hitting New York Giants remained a half game back of the Cards by defeating the Pirates 11-8 and then battling to a 6-6 tie in the called second game of a doubleheader at Pittsburgh.

The Yankees went 13½ games ahead of the field, their widest margin yet, in defeating the Cleveland Indians 5-4 while the second place Boston Red Sox were absorbing a 10-3 drubbing from the Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers hammered five Red Sox pitchers for 16 hits including a two-run homer by Hoot Evers while Hal Newhouser scattered 10 blows in recording his 11th win of the season.

Lanky Ewell Blackwell's string of consecutive complete games was snapped at 13 as the Cincinnati Reds and Boston Braves split a doubleheader, the Braves whipping the Reds and Blackwell 4-2 in the opener, and the Reds winning the second 6-1.

Phil Marchildon gained his 13th victory of the season as the Athletics divided a twin bill with the St. Louis Browns in Philadelphia. The Canadian righthander spaced eight hits to register a 2-0 shutout win against Ellis Kinder in the opener. The Browns overcame a 3-0 Athletic lead to win the nightcap 4-3.

Frank Papish, Chicago lefthander, pitched the White Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Senators in Washington. The win was the White Sox' thirteenth in 18 starts over the Nats.

Joe Louis Has Many Profitable Sidelines

NEW YORK—The way things shape up in the heavyweight boxing division, Joe Louis may go down in history as the oldest champion on record.

Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack Johnson both were 37 when they lost the title. Louis still has more than four years to go before reaching that age. He was 33 on May 13.

However, the Brown Bomber and John Roxborough, one of his managers, aren't taking any chances. Roxie isn't waiting for the day when Louis takes a beating or retires undefeated.

Several Sound Deals

He has lined up several business deals to keep the wolf away from the Louis door.

The first Louis business venture was the Harlem restaurant bearing his name. It is believed that Louis has a 40 per cent interest in the eatery. Originally Louis had 30 per cent but the day it opened last fall Promoter Mike Jacobs gave Joe the 10 per cent supposedly held by the promoter.

This adds strength to the general belief that Louis has settled his account with the boss of the 20th Century Sporting club. Jacobs loaned chucks of money to Louis while the champion served four years in the Army.

Louis grossed $625,916.44 on the Conn fight and picked up another $103,611.89—both less taxes, of course—when he flattened Mauriello in the first round last September. Surely, Louis came out all right. It would be time to retire if he hadn't.

With the Louis restaurant going so well, Roxborough persuaded the dark destroyer to purchase a Chicago night club. It's known as the Rhumboogie and is operated by Leonard Reed.

JOE LOUIS
Makes Money Outside Ring

Perhaps the biggest business proposition to come along this year, besides his February exhibition tour of Latin-American countries, is the Joe Louis Punch, a new line of soda pop soon to hit the market.

Louis will get 5 per cent of the gross in this business which will stretch to other countries. The bubble water makers hope for a $10,000,000 yearly income, meaning that Louis may pocket $500,000 without throwing a punch.

Another recent Louis undertaking was the purchase of a 400-acre farm in Utica, Mich., a layout that includes a cocktail bar, restaurant, stables and a dude ranch.

Louis intends to make the site a city in itself with its own newspaper, schoolhouse, self sustaining crops, cattle and creamery.

Another new Louis venture involves a publicity office to send material to the Negro press.

Just where does Roxborough fit in?

Well, Roxie is handling many of Louis' business affairs as in prewar days when he and Julian Black managed the champ. Roxborough owns an insurance business with headquarters in Detroit. Mr. Joseph Louis Barrow is a full-fledged partner, too.

Whatever Louis has left of the $3,141,194.61 gross he has earned in the squared circle may seem pale compared with the profits he hopes to realize from his various business ventures.

Title at Stake In Lightweight Battle

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4—Bob Montgomery and Ike Williams collide in municipal stadium tonight to make a single-seater out of the lightweight championship, which has been a bicycle-built-for-two these past five years.

Each is putting up his half of the title—Williams the National Boxing association slice and Bob the New York-Pennsylvania piece—on a winner take 'em both basis. And from all the talk you hear around and about—including the pre-battle tunes the two thumpers are playing on their concertinas—it almost has to wind up in a knockout when they're turned loose at 10 p. m. (EDT) (9 p. m. Marion time).

Sammy's Defeat Marseilles, 17-5

Sammy's Nite Club hammered out a 17-5 victory over Marseilles at the Marion Power Shovel Co. diamond yesterday.

It was the second time the teams have met, and a revenge win for Sammy's. A concentrated attack that lasted through three innings was enough to sew things up. They scored three in the third, six in the fourth, and eight in the fifth.

Chuck Woods and Jack Higgins were tops at the plate, each getting three hits in four trips.

Y LADDER TENNIS TOURNEY UNDER WAY

Ladder tennis tournaments start at the Y. M. C. A. courts today. The tournaments will continue through Aug. 31. By Saturday 29 persons had signed to participate in the matches. Others interested may register at the courts, which are located on Vernon Heights Boulevard.

Participants in the tournaments are listed on a ladder roaster. Each can go up the ladder by challenging either of the two players immediately above him on the list. If the challenger wins the matches, they change places on the ladder. All challenges must be accepted and played at an agreed time. If a challenger loses, all positions remain the same, but he cannot challenge again until he has been challenged from below.

OLD BARN BURNS

LEBANON, O., Aug. 4 — A peg-built barn which stood for 100 years as a Warren county landmark was a charred ruin today, ignited by a bolt of lightning. Guido Valerio, who operates the farm for his father, Alfred Valerio of Cincinnati, estimated damage at $20,000.

SCHLAIRET DEFEATS LORAIN SHOVELERS

Schlairet Transfer won its second straight weekend victory at McKinley park yesterday afternoon defeating Thew Shovel of Lorain 10-8.

The win was sparked by Gail Stout who got four hits in five times at bat. In the third inning he hit a three-run homer. Don Kay, returning to the lineup as pitcher, hit a two-run homer in the second, and Eddie Young hit a three-runner in the fifth.

Osborne French, right fielder, also came in for his share of the glory, with three hits and a spectacular catch in the eighth. French, usually not adept at snagging flies, came in fast on a short fly that looked like a sure hit and, after toying with it, hung on to retire the visitors.

Next Sunday Schlairet was scheduled against Newark at Newark, but the game has been cancelled. Manager Somerlot says that Schlairet will try to book the Sandusky Boosters, who owe them a game, to fill the vacancy.

Jersey Joe Called Best in Field By Louis at Dayton

By The Associated Press

DAYTON O., Aug. 4—Perhaps because it was the right thing to say Joe Louis asserted today that Jersey Joe Walcott stacks up as the best opponent the matchmakers could find for him.

In Dayton over the weekend to compete in the Miami View Open golf tournament, an all-Negro event, the heavyweight explained that his Nov. 14 opponent rated high with him because he can "box and punch—and take a punch."

Louis and Walcott are signed for a 10-round non-title scramble at Madison Square Garden and the champion said he reckoned there wouldn't have been a Louis bout this fall if Jersey Joe hadn't been selected.

He laughed when somebody mentioned Bruce Woodcock, the British campaigner, and Elmer (Violent) Ray, who recently won a decision over Cincinnati's Ezzard Charles.

"That Woodcock can punch all right," Louis said. "But he can't take one. He doesn't belong in there with me."

Joe termed Ray the "worst heavyweight" in the ring today.

"Why," he told a reporter, "he couldn't knock out a man who weighed 110-pounds let alone one weighing 200 pounds."

Louis said he once refereed a bout in Cleveland in which the Hastings, Fla., heavyweight was one of the principals. Joe said he hadn't cared much for the Violent One's showing then and that he didn't think Elmer had changed too greatly.

Joe said he would commence training for Walcott at French Lick, Ind., on Sept. 16. He said he weighed 216 pounds now but would pare down to 210 for Jersey Joe.

On the links yesterday Louis finished third among the amateurs with 81-79—160 for the 36 holes. Fred Rhoades of Detroit won the pro title with a 144 made up of two 72's. George Gibbs, a Wilberforce university golfer, topped the amateurs with 153.

All Stars and Maids Win at Crystal Lake

Three runs were enough for both the All-Stars and Maids at Crystal Lake park last night, the Smith sponsored teams adding victories to their records.

Millisor, pitching for the All-Stars, allowed Briggsdale only three scattered hits, while the Stars outscored Briggsdale Merchants 3-0 on four hits. Their fielding was errorless. Don Cook's double in the second inning was the only extra base hit of the evening.

The Maids, who are now the sixth district women's softball champ and waiting to go into action in the state tourney, beat Apex Girls of Sandusky, 3-1, each team getting four safeties.

Murray led local hitters with two.

Tomorrow night the All-Stars go into tourney action in the district meet at Mt. Vernon against Upper Sandusky V.F.W. The All-Stars are one of the seeded teams in the tournament.

Sunday they have booked the Maumee Schmidt Beers team, which defeated them earlier this season. Toledo All-Stars girls' team will play the Maids.

Batting, Hank Greenberg, Pirates—Walloped three home runs, one with the bases loaded to bring his season's total to 20. His finale round tripper came in the eighth inning with two out, to tie the Giants just seconds before the game was halted because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

Southpaw Leads Drive on Blues

By The Associated Press

Defending Champion Louisville is hotly pursuing first-place Kansas City in the American Association race today and the Colonel who is cracking the whip hardest is Clem Dreisewerd, 31-year-old southpaw, who tops the league in victories with 15

Dreisewerd, who was with the Boston Red Sox last year and has been something of a pitching enigma since he broke in at Portsmouth, O., in 1930, grabbed No. 14 against five defeats yesterday as the Colonels swept a pair from Milwaukee, 7-2 and 4-2.

The double triumph enabled Louisville to climb to within two games of Kansas City as the Blues divided with Indianapolis, 5-6 and 6-3.

The Minneapolis Millers wrested fifth place from Columbus in sweeping a pair from the host Red Birds, 9-5 and 6-3.

In the day's fourth bargain bill, seventh-spot St. Paul shoved Toledo's Mud Hens deeper in the cellar with a double decision, 9-6 and 8-4, as three players collected a pair of homers each.

PLAYOFF MEANS EXTRA $600 FOR GOLF PROS

Ferrier and Haas in Playoff at St. Paul Today.

By The Associated Press

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 4—For many golfers a side bet is a small matter of a nickel or a dime or even a dollar on a hole, but for a pair of professionel golfers who worked overtime today, $600 was no small side bet—even for 18 holes.

For on the outcome of an 18-hole playoff will depend whether Jim Ferrier of Chicago or Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans will get $2,000 first prize money in the St. aul open or the $1,400 second money.

Ferrier and Haas, insurance broker-golfer who turned professional just about a year ago, finished the scheduled 72 holes of play Sunday with identical scores of 272.

Lew Worsham of Pittsburgh, national open champion, took third place and $1,000 in cash on his 274 for the 72 holes.

John Barnum of Chicago was two strokes behind Worsham with 276 to win low amateur honors.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., the 1946 low amateur, was well down the list, wit ha 285 on his 74 Sunday.

LEGION ENDS FUN PERIOD

Convention Gets Down to Serious Business of Ohio Convention.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 4—Ohio American Legionnaires again turned to serious business at their twenty-ninth annual convention today after a weekend of frivolity and celebration featured by a spectacular parade described as their "finest show" in a decade.

Today's agenda called for committee reports, awarding of prizes, formal nomination and election of officers, then adjournment.

As an added attraction, Babe Ruth the Old Bambino of Swat, was to be on hand this afternoon for a baseball game at Crosley field between All-Star Junior Legion teams representing Cleveland and Cincinnati areas.

H M Carothers of Columbus, a member of the Legion's Ohio department headquarters staff, said yesterday's parade was "the finest show produced by a state convention in 10 years."

Police officials estimated between 150,000 and 175,000 lined downtown streets in near 100-degree temperature to watch the parade which required two and a half hours to pass the reviewing stand. Eugene T Weatherly, the chief, guessed between 12,000 and 15,000 Legionnaires, their ladies and representatives of other veterans organizations participated in the colorful display of drum and bugle corps, bands and marching units.

Gov. Herbert Marches

One of the marchers was Gov Thomas J Herbert, who went the whole route, coatless, Legion cap cocked on his white head, and replying to applause by military solute or a wave of his hand.

An official reading of 96 degrees made it the hottest day of the year.

At a business session, Ralph H Stone of Columbus, regional Veterans Administration head, said congressional slash of appropriation had made necessary a curtailment of VA services but he emphasized that "the VA will demand that medical service be kept up to the present high level."

"We can't sell the Legion to veterans of World War II on the basis that they should come in to protect their rights as veterans," said Richard Cadwallader of Baton Rouge, La., national vice commander, who urged that the Legion take leadership in "revitalizing" government to attract recruits.

Cadwallader suggested the Legion's attempt at national leadership be augmented on a local level through increased participation in "community life" by individual posts, and proposed that posts form committees on local government, business and labor, education, agriculture and similar subjects.

Resolutions Adopted

Resolutions adopted by delegates yesterday:

Approved an amendment to the department's constitution increasing the number of state vice commanders to two after hearing arguments that another was necessary for an intensified membership drive;

Asked the federal public housing authority to exclude disability pensions of veterans in determining housing eligibility in low-rent projects;

Advocated pensions of $50 a month for veterans of World War I and II when they reach the age of 60, plus an increase at 65;

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

KATHARINE proved herself a seeress.

The waiters from Room Service knocked at the outer door of our apartment just as she came through the door from the bedroom.

"Your table is all set," she told Noel and Mary, and Dicky, rising, swept her a low, burlesque bow.

"Lady, you're wasted in your present profession," he said. "With your sense of timing, radio is waiting for you with arms outstretched."

"I'll talk it over with you some rainy Sunday," Katharine told him, then turned to Mary and Noel.

"Come, children," she said, smiling. "Better get moving while the food's hot. I'll come in and tie your bibs around your necks and then leave you to yourselves."

Through the Door

"We'll promise not to throw the cereal on the floor," Mary said as Katharine waved them through the door in front of her, and Faith giggled as I directed one of the waiters to take the orders for Noel and Mary into the bedroom.

"I do think Cousin Mary is the funniest woman in the world," she said, "just as my Daddy is the funniest man. But you're funny, too, sometimes, Mummy," she added dutifully, and her father grinned ghoulishly at me.

"I guess that will show you the nearest jumping-off place," he said. He was standing next to me, and Faith did not hear him.

"Thank you, darling," I said, smiling at the enchanting little face, serious now in the effort to do me full justice.

"You're welcome," she replied mechanically, and her father turned away hastily while Katharine and I busied ourselves in rearranging to our liking the tables which the waiter just had wheeled in and pushed in place so that four could be served together.

"Better get busy," Katharine advised briskly. "Fluffy omelettes don't wait on anybody's pleasure."

Limited Conversation

For the next few minutes we discussed our food, and kept our conversation limited to economics upon it. Finally Dicky, patently replete, settled back in his chair and looked at me with the mixture of teasing and heady approval which has made life with him so zestful for me through the years of our marriage.

"One of your major efforts at ordering old dear," he said, 'and everything was so good, I'm not sure you didn't sneak down into the hotel kitchen, knock the chef out with his own skillet, and cook this breakfast yourself."

"Hear! Hear!" Katharine said, while Faith went off into her usual ecstatic giggles at anything her father says which she deems humorous, and Dicky raised a silencing hand.

"You ain't heard nuthin yet," he told Katharine. 'I now am going to bestow five rose-geranium leaves and a begonia blossom upon our heroine for her nifty foot-and-bram work a few minutes ago. There were signs of distinct skepticism upon the part of the masculine half of the connubial sketch, but they vanished like dew under sunlight at the skillful treatment of our celebrated doctor of words and syllables. Incidentally, don't you think it might be as well as warn the distaff side of the sketch to watch her conversational step?'

A Small Pitcher

Katharine unobtrusively picked up a small pitcher from the table and examined it closely.

"Isn't this odd and charming?" she asked. 'It's much too unusual to be in a hotel. I think I'll try to find out where they got it, and buy it."

Dicky's eyes showed that he caught her reference and her rebuke but he answered her as carelessly as if there had been no hidden meaning in her words.

"Probably it belongs to some steady patron who has her own breakfast set," he said, 'and it got sent down on the tray by mistake. If it did, the woman who missed it, never got it back, you can bet. These are parlous times. Hotels fire the patrons if they can't please the help, not the other way around as it used to be."

"I wish you all would stop using such big words," Faith said ruefully, but with such a respectful air that I had no grounds for reproof.

'I'm getting all mixed up,' she went on. "When Aunt Katharine began to talk about the pitcher, I was sure she was going to say something about little pitchers having big ears. And that would have meant me. But nobody said anything I shouldn't say again. Or did you?"
